

I have worked with Connections since 2012. This is working with people with mild to moderate mental health issues such as anxiety and stress. I work with different service users in blocks of 6 weeks. I am currently working with my 8th group. Connections are currently applying for internal funding to put on a play at some point in the future.