

I worked with this group of service users - adults with learning difficulties - conducting drama workshops from May until December 2014.